

What's the Main Idea?

Read the sentences below. Cut each one out. Decide which sentence is the main idea and which sentences are the supporting details. Then, arrange the sentences with the main idea in the top box and the details in the bottom box.

Mother cats will defend their kittens from danger.

They give their babies milk.

Kittens sleep with their mothers to stay warm.

Mother cats take very good care of their kittens.