What Plants Need

Plants need soil, water, and sun to grow. Plants also need air, the right temperature, time, and space to grow. Fertilizer contains nutrients that plants need to grow. It's important that plants get the right amount of nutrients and water. Too much or too little can harm plants.

Types of Plants

There are lots of different types of plants. Many grow from seeds. Some plants grow fruit while others grow flowers. If you look outside, you will see lots of different sizes and colors of plants.
